

AGENDA

Stakeholder Dialogue Forum

Making cities more cohesive and attractive: How to use urban green to transform neighbourhoods

08:30 – 16:00, 10 May 2017

Regionalverband Ruhr

(Regional association of the Ruhr region)

Gutenbergstraße 47, 45128 Essen, Germany

Room 201

08:00 Registration

08:30	Welcome and introduction to the potential of green infrastructure for urban regeneration <ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>&gt; Michael Schwarze-Rodrian, Regional Association Ruhr Region (Germany)</li></ul>
08:50	Introduction to speakers and City Spotlights <ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>&gt; Barbara Anton, ICLEI European Secretariat, Freiburg (Germany)</li></ul>
09:00	City Spotlight 1 <ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>&gt; Margarete Meyer, Department for Urban Regeneration and Development, City of Essen (Germany)</li><li>&gt; Camilla Anderson and Tim Delshammar, Streets and Parks Department, City of Malmö (Sweden)</li></ul>

09:40 Coffee break

10:10	City Spotlight 2 <ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>&gt; Ramona Bakk, Green Areas Office, City of Oradea (tbc)</li><li>&gt; Ton Verhoeven, Department of Spatial Development, City of Nijmegen</li></ul>
10:50	GREEN SURGE scientific input and reflection <ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>&gt; Daniel Brinkmeyer, Chair of Ecosystem Science/Plant Ecology, Technical University of Berlin (Germany)</li></ul>
11:20	Science Practice Arena "How to make it work: Framing the benefits of urban green to regenerate neighbourhoods and find the right entry point for action" <ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>&gt; With contributions from the cities of Essen, Oradea (tbc), Malmö and the Technical University of Berlin</li></ul>
12:00	Wrap up and lessons learned

12:15 Lunch break in the RVR canteen

13:15	Field trip to Niederfeldsee in Essen (tbc) Example for using urban green infrastructure to regenerate a neighbourhood
-------	---

16:00 End at European Green Capital Information Office at Weberplatz